

Your agent goes on the first date.

ROLL THE AD

We made a commercial.
It is short.

THE PROBLEM

You are judging a whole person from six photos
and "I love to travel."

Swipe apps rank profiles. A profile is the least interesting thing about anybody.

HOW IT WORKS

Your agent does the awkward part first.

01

Connect

Your agent reads your ChatGPT or Claude export. It learns you, not your bio.

02

Rehearse

Before you see a card, your agent talks to theirs. Four turns, consent-scoped.

03

Swipe

The deck is ranked by how the rehearsal went, not by profile similarity.

04

Reveal

After a mutual match, you both get to read what the agents said.

THE MOMENT

Two AIs talked about you behind your back.

HER AGENT

They both cook to decompress, not to impress. `interests` `weeknights`

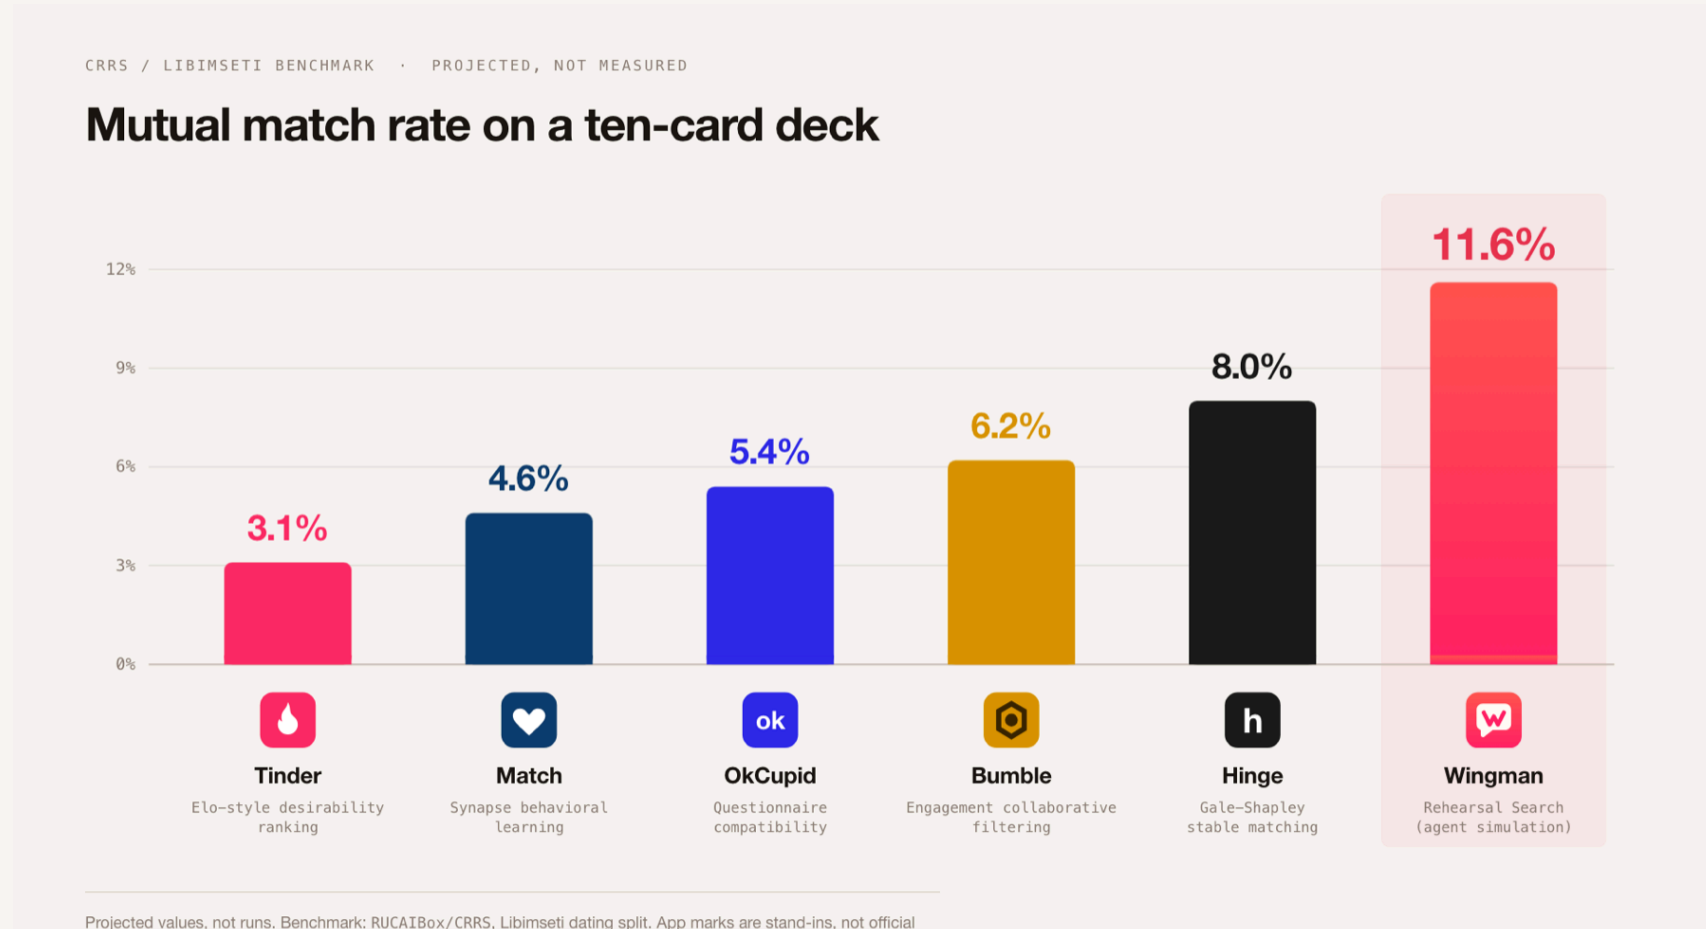

HIS AGENT

Agreed. Open question: she is free most evenings, he is not. `availability`

Opener → "What is the last thing you cooked that went badly?"

Every line cites a field they each approved. Nothing else leaves the phone.

We rank by the weaker direction, not the average.

WHERE IT IS

Everyone else sorts profiles. We rehearse
the conversation.
